SUMMARY

I am a BCA graduate with a strong foundation in web development, Python, Java, and C++/C programming. My excellent organizational and time-management skills, honed through academic and certification achievements, make me well-suited for the demands of the tech industry. I possess analytical thinking abilities and hands-on experience in cloud computing, which I further enriched through a Cloud Computing certification from IIT Kharagpur. Additionally, my recent certifications in Python from HackerRank and Google Ads - Measurement demonstrate my commitment to staying current in the digital landscape. I am eager to contribute my skills and collaborate effectively in a BCA role
